He discovered BMX at the age of 15 and is already one of Japan's leading riders with a career spanning some 20 years. He started riding bikes with his twin brother, and BMX freed him from his shyness and introduced him to the outside world. He became fascinated with biking and even went on to win the Japanese championship. However, it was difficult for him to become a professional BMX rider at that time. So he became interested in his parents' work on stage. He rode his bike while working as a props designer for Broadway productions in Japan.

Then in 2018, she played the childhood of the main character in the world tour "VOLTA" of the world famous circus company Cirque du Soleil. He was fascinated by the unprecedented combination of ballet dancers and classical music in the production. Cirque was the first show he saw when he was 5 years old, a show he had always wanted to see. However, in 2020, the performance was interrupted due to a virus. He returned to Japan to further challenge the possibilities of BMX and art. Then in 2022, he returned to Cirque du Soleil and played a comical frog character in the special event FUZION held in Saudi Arabia. His activities will take a further leap forward.

2018-20	VOLTA Cirque du soleil (Duo with ballet dancer)
